Good commissioning for good lives

The Somerset story

Commissioning challenge

- West and South Somerset are the most rural areas of the county
- People living there have the highest average age in the country
- Traditional home care services could not offer affordable services – people were delayed coming out of hospital or went into residential care

- Initial 2-year contract with Community Catalysts
- Focus on care at home for people in West and South Somerset
- Local catalyst working through local communities to identify enablers and people keen to make a difference
- Systematic action to tackle cultural and systems barriers
- Information about community enterprise solutions available to people looking for support and services

Micro-providers in Somerset

Heather at Home

- Heather is a mental health social worker
- Community Catalysts helped her set up a home help and support service in the small town of South Petherton

I had just moved jobs and started working with older people with mental health issues and was shocked by the lack of community services for them...It got to the point where I dreaded visiting people because I knew the supports that they needed were not there and for me that is not what social work is about. So that got me thinking about what I can do...

Sharon Walker

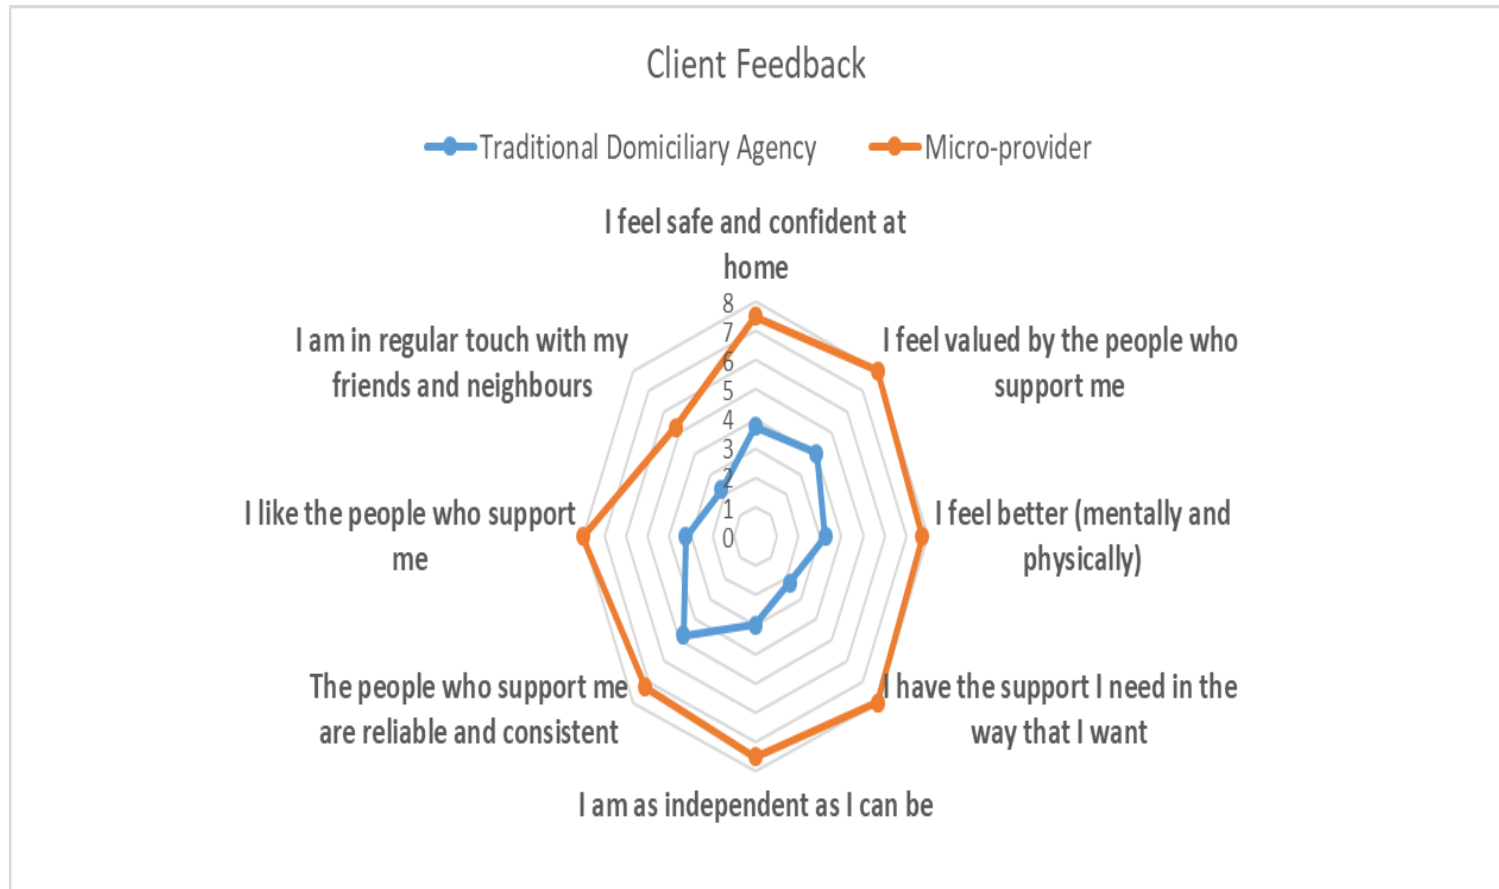

- Has a lot of experience working in traditional care services
Took a career break to look after her mother in law
- Profoundly affected by the experience of delivering person centred care.
- Supported from Community Catalysts to set up Care4U
- Provides highly personalised, flexible and consistent support to older people in Sharon's Somerset village.

'I can organise my time so that people can get what they want at a time that suits them, it gives me the freedom to work around their family...'

Impact

- Older people are well-supported at home by people from their neighbourhood
- Support is co-designed. Creative people on both sides of the care equation finding ways to do things differently
- People can work locally, earn an income and make a positive difference
- Commissioners, older people and families know good support is available. As a result people come home earlier from hospital
- More people choose to take a Direct Payment.
- People stay connected to their community, contributing and avoiding loneliness

Impact on people's lives

Gerry wanted to die at home. This was only possible with the support of micro-providers. They gave us the opportunity to take control of his care without the stress. They come at times to suit us, are local, they do exactly what they are supposed to do plus more. They go that extra couple of miles and we love them to bits.... We had a provider who takes us to appointments, we have even had providers sleep on an airbed on the floor in an emergency. I can't explain the difference this made. They are more like friends now.

communitycatalysts
unlocking potential effecting change

Harnessing a new workforce

- 39% have no formal experience but want to make a difference
- 21% have formal experience in care and want to help people at times and ways that suit them.
- 33% have worked as an agency domiciliary care worker and want to offer care & support in a more personalised way.
- 7% have diversified an existing service to offer care at home

Ensuring quality

Quality is addressed through an advice framework plus local accountability

But in addition..... we are exploring with CQC and Skills for Care:

- Formally mapping the advice framework to key lines of enquiry
- A tailored qualification appropriate to the size and simplicity of the organisation

Thank you
