Solidarity Fund – The National Lottery Community Fund

This funding is for organisations in England dealing with the causes of inequality. By inequality they mean poverty, disadvantage and discrimination.

They'll fund organisations that are working on making a lasting change to the causes of inequality, and that support people who've lived through these issues to work together and influence this.

You do not need to be a long-established organisation to apply, but they'll expect you to have the ability to help make the kind of big and long-lasting changes they're looking for. They are unlikely to fund work that's completely unrelated to what you already do.

They are especially interested in work that builds on your knowledge, relationships, or things your community has learned – and that helps you take your work further or in a new direction.

You can apply for between £1 million and £5 million in total. You can spend this funding over 5 to 10 years.

Aviva Community Fund

Organisations can receive up to £50,000 in match funding and eligible causes can apply at any time.

Aviva want to support forward-thinking causes that are helping to build stronger communities, and your project should align with one of the Aviva funding areas:
