Review of NALC and ACRE Manifesto Documents

Information note for the RSN Executive

The Rural Services Network (RSN) maintains good links with and shares many policy interests with the National Association of Local Councils (NALC) and ACRE (the national body for the network of Rural Community Councils). It therefore makes sense to co-ordinate representational work with these organisations where we have common cause.

This short note considers the manifesto documents that were put out by NALC and ACRE before the General Election, and considers how far they could be supported by the RSN, not least given the content of our own Rural Services Manifesto.

ACRE

The ACRE manifesto, called 'Health, Wealth and Access', makes 12 asks of an incoming Government. As set out in the table below: 7 of these are the same or almost the same as asks within the RSN manifesto; and 5 are different, but RSN could probably still support them. In short, there is a great deal of common cause between our two organisations.

ACRE ask	Assessment
Review criteria for non-emergency patient transport	RSN could support to address discrimination faced by rural residents.
Reinstate the GP practice Minimum Practice Income	RSN has a similar ask
Guarantee (MPIG).
Review rural delivery of the Energy Company	RSN has the same ask Obligation (ECO) energy efficiency programme.
Review advice and support available to support	RSN could support communities creating renewable energy schemes.
Ensure LEADER programme benefits as many rural	RSN could support communities as possible.
Rural areas should get a fair share of LEP funding.	RSN has the same ask
Drop the spare room subsidy/bedroom tax in small	RSN has the same ask rural communities with a population under 3,000.
Reverse the small development site exemption from	RSN has the same ask the requirement to contribute affordable housing.
Invest in alternative broadband solutions for	RSN has the same ask communities not covered by the current roll out.
Invest in support for communities to develop social	RSN has the same ask enterprise solutions to services they lack.
Invest in volunteers, especially young drivers for	RSN could support community transport schemes.

Review concessionary fares scheme and ensure	RSN could support (as law local authorities fully reimburse bus companies.	already expects providers to be no worse off)

NALC

The NALC manifesto, called 'Communities in Control', also makes 12 asks of an incoming Government. Prior to these it sets out 6 offers the sector would make to an incoming Government. RSN could probably support all of these offers, which in essence are about making parish councils more effective. It is inevitable that RSN views on the asks will be mixed, since some of them seek access to funding which could only come at the expense of funding for principal local authorities. Broadly speaking, and as the table below shows, RSN could probably: support almost all the first four asks on democracy; whilst mainly disagreeing with the next few asks on funding; and supporting some but not all of the last four asks on powers. In short, there is scope for cooperation, so long as certain differences are accepted.

NALC offers	Assessment
Provide communities with effective, accountable and	RSN could support this democratic representation.
Be fiscally responsible, using statutory powers and	RSN could support this resident levy to take action on local priorities.
Use grassroots knowledge to work in partnership with	RSN could support this other councils and public service delivery bodies.
Protect local assets and shape development such as	RSN could support this new homes and shops.
Work with local businesses and others to support	RSN could support this local economic growth and regeneration.
Modernise how we operate, so parish councils are	RSN could support this resilient, efficient and effective.
NALC asks	Assessment
Promote creating new parish councils. Introduce a	RSN Executive is asked to community right of appeal for rejected requests.	express a view
Allow parish councils to impose sanctions for	RSN could support breaches of the Councillors' code of conduct.
Support the sector in developing an improvement and	RSN could support development strategy.
Encourage more people to stand as Councillors, so	RSN could support there are more contested elections.
Ensure Council Tax support funding is passed on by	RSN would disagree (unless principal authorities to parish councils.	this is misunderstood)
Reform business rates so that 5% goes to parish	RSN would disagree councils for economic development work.
Drop the Government requirement that any precept	RSN could support increase above a certain level needs a referendum.
Ensure parish councils receive a share of CIL, the	RSN would disagree (except
New Homes Bonus and exploration funding.	CIL which already happens)

A Parish Councils Bill to reform laws governing their	RSN might support (subject administration and give new service delivery powers.	to further information)
Promote use of the General Power of Competence	RSN could support and remove barriers to its use.
Parish councils to gain a right to be consulted on	RSN likely to disagree (at planning and licensing, and a right of planning appeal	least on right of appeal) Introduce a right to engage to help parish councils	RSN likely to disagree (with work more equitably with principal authorities.	a legislative approach)

Rural Coalition

It is worth noting that RSN sits on the Rural Coalition. This is a Defra stakeholder group which has in membership both ACRE and NALC, as well as bodies such as the CLA, NFU, CPRE, Plunkett Foundation, TCPA and RICS. The Rural Coalition is in the process of deciding its priorities for the post-election period and is discovering a great deal of commonality among rural interest groups. Affordable housing is widely seen as the top priority, with devolution (within England), broadband connectivity, rural proofing and rural economy/LEPs also cited by many as important. The Rural Coalition is therefore another avenue for RSN to work in concert with other organisations.

Although this paper is largely for information, comments from the Executive would be welcome. In particular, on the NALC ask for a right of appeal where a request to create a new parish council is turned down. That decision will have been taken by the relevant district/unitary council.

Rural Services Network May 2015